T. BRUFF,

DENTIST.

(Now at Mr. Heiskell's Tavern.)

OFFERS his services for a few days, to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Alexandria, in the different branches of his profession; particularly in cleaning and restoring the teeth to their natural elegance, without the least injury to the enamel; transplanting real, and setting artificial do. with enamel, having to true a resemblance, as not to be distinguished from the former, and in many cases nearly as useful; preserving speck'd teeth from farther decaying, by filling, or inserting pure gold in the hollows; and in extracting such as are too far gone to save.

He assures the timid, that his mode of cleaning the teeth preserves the enamel; and to promote health and sweetness of breath, it is indispensibly necessary to have the tartar removed—it appears in a black or yellow crust above the gums, corrodes the teeth, or so consumes the surrounding bone, that they drop out. It wastes the gums, beginning at the two middle front teeth of the lower jaw, and advances to the rest, corrupting the breath, causing ulcers, swellings, tooth ache, and so.

A few persons who make early application, may supply themselves with a genuine TOOTH POWDER, for whitening, polishing and preserving the teeth, hardening the gums, &c. in boxes at one and two dollars; also serviceable brushes and tooth picks in ivory cases, at 25 cents.

In general he has the following prices; but where an uncommon degree of attention is required, or the case remarkably bad, a little more is expected.

Cleaning the teeth 5	Filling front teeth 1
Artificial front teeth 5	Whitening only 1 22

PATENT INSTRUMENTS.

Having obtained in a great degree, the most painful part of the business, by his late invention of perpendicular instruments for extracting, those, whose fears of a painful operation have hitherto prevented them from having carious or painful teeth removed, are assured that the ease and safety of this mode of extracting is such, that the most delicate persons may venture.

His friends have requested him to publish a number of certificates given him by practitioners of eminence; but he thinks the following one from Dr. Shippen, of Philadelphia, sufficient to satisfy any person who cannot have an opportunity of examining and judging for themselves.

CERTIFICATE.

I have examined Mr. Bruff's instrument for extracting teeth, and think it the best calculated to perform this operation with ease and safety, that I ever saw. The inventor is well entitled to public patronage.

FROM THE VIRGINIA HERALD.

PARTY SPIRIT.

The following circumstance is no less true than disgraceful.

Some short time since, the Lieutenant of the county of —, being vacant, a competition arose between two candidates for that appointment. The one a friend to the constitution under which we happily live, and to the laws which give us peace and respectability; the other, his opposite in politics, and both county magistrates.

As is usual and necessary on such occasions, the magistrates convened for the purpose of taking into consideration the qualifications of the candidates, and of selecting for recommendation the one best fitted by his merit to fill the vacant place. On the vote being taken, the federal candidate was preferred by a majority of one; when, as strange as it may appear, as contrary to delicacy, to justice, to common decency, as it certainly was, it is nevertheless a fact undeniable, that the demagogue, contemning those considerations, did go upon the bench, and by his own voice brought the votes to a balance; thereby, as the thing eventuated, creating himself a colonel!

Little doubt was entertained by those who voted for the federal candidate, but that on a representation of the circumstances to the Governor and Council, the noble minded and self-created colonel would meet with the disappointment which his want of liberality, and his want of something else, as essential to a colonial merit, and that his vote would be considered as no vote, or at least, that his Excellency, disgusted with such meanness, would confer the appointment on the man who had acted with honor and independence. —But how vainly do those calculate who are mean enough to look for Jacobinical justice. The federal gentleman, who was properly recommended by his country, (which recommendation ought to have governed the ultimate decision of the case) was considered too much the friend of order to be entrusted with a post in the militia of his country; and his rival, who had displayed in its fullest sense the true Jacobin, received the commission!!

If it be ceded, and doubtless it must be, that it is the duty of the chief magistrate of the commonwealth, to encourage, as much as he can, by his own example, the exercise of impartiality and justice, as well to private individuals as in subordinate officers, it will be difficult to say on what ground his conduct, in the above instance, can be vindicated.

If party virulence, and not impartial justice, is to govern the deliberations of our State councils, let it be asked, what security have we for the protection and preservation of our properties, our liberties, our lives? None. —Are the people, who by their suffrages at elections, place men into power, determined forever to shut their eyes and ears against truth, and to countenance men who wantonly and contumeliously trample justice under foot, and whose object palpably is to subvert all regular government, and to throw our country into anarchy and distraction? —If such be the determination of the American people, unaccountable indeed is the degeneracy which has in a few years succeeded that noble love of liberty, that generous contempt of danger which prompted us to pursue, and which enabled us to establish the great work of our revolution; in the accomplishment of which so much of America's best blood flowed. Fellow citizens, you will soon have an opportunity of answering this question. On the election of electors to choose the President of the United States, show yourselves the same people who fought for and attained liberty, and who erected a government whose object was, and whose effect has been, to preserve every thing dear to a nation.

Rappahannock, June 25, 1800.

NEW YORK, JULY 9.

We are very happy in learning from all parts of our city, that we are uncommonly blessed with health. The vigilance of our magistrates, we trust, will be redoubled at this season of extreme heat, to remove all subjects of putrefaction and sources of disease. Notwithstanding their great exertions, there are many parts of the town which require immediate attention. Our gutters are a horrible nuisance, and of themselves sufficient to create a contagion; and they always will remain so, till they are differently constructed.

Yesterday came on the trial of one Kroujer, for a Rape.

The circumstances attendant on the commission of this brutal violence, were peculiarly aggravating. The prisoner is a man of about forty, with every mark on his face of a crafty, unprincipled villain. The girl is a child of scarce 14 years—the told her story with artlessness, and in tears. The horror of the diabolical scene seemed still fresh in her memory. Her pallid countenance and trembling accents, shewed the extremest agitation.

It seems this monster had the address to invent some pretext, by which he persuaded the foster mother of the child, to let her go to his lodgings. He locked his door—and with threats and force executed his guilty purpose. He even threatened her, if she resisted or made any outcry, with instant death.

The criminal had no other apology, than, that she was a whore! Every sentiment of nature, every evidence of fact, revolted at the insinuation. The Jury returned a verdict of GUILTY!!

This is the same wretch who lived in the house of Juliana Sands, at the time she was murdered—who had attempted to seduce her—who was absent at a suspicious place that very evening, and who pursued the suspected young man with the utmost malignity. It appears also, that this fiend has more than one wife, and that the one he has in this town, he has always treated with ruffian cruelty. Every one must rejoice that the community is at length freed from a demon so artful and unfeeling.

The Franklin Typographical Association, agreeably to one of the articles of their constitution, assembled in a numerous and respectable body on the 4th of July, to celebrate the anniversary of American Independence. A laudable oration, conceived in language at once energetic and perspicuous, was delivered by Mr. Henry Gray, jun. and received with merited applause. After dinner the exhibiting glass went round, and the following toasts were drank, interspersed occasionally with convivial and patriotic songs:—

1. The day we celebrate—May the independence of America be coeval with eternity, and our institutions keep pace with it in success and stability.
2. The constitution of the United States—As it has been productive of innumerable blessings to us, may it continue permanent in its operations.
3. The executives of the United States—May their successors evince equal firmness and patriotism.
4. The memory of our respected and revered patron, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, the printer, philosopher, patriot and sage—words are unnecessary to express how highly we estimate him.
5. Printing—May the professors of this enlightening art never render it a medium for the circulation of error, by prostituting it to the purposes of the enemies of their country.
6. May the ribs of freedom never be worn down by the cramps of tyranny.
7. Consumption to paper.
8. The Navy of the United States—May it ever be successful in chase, have a good supply of cannon, with balls well distributed, to make a fair impression—but never an occasion for pressmen.
9. The farmers of America—May the produce of their labours never fill the pockets of foreign task masters.
10. May public confidence and spirit ever be the key which holds fast the bar of liberty.
11. The employers and journeymen Printers throughout the United States—May the former be actuated by principles of justice and equity, and the latter cemented by the bonds of friendship and common interest.
12. American Presses—May they never groan under any other form but those which will disseminate useful knowledge to the world.
13. May the cases of America be filled with the types of freedom, distributed by the sons of independence.
14. May the pages of our invaluable constitution, composed by the sages and patriots of our country, never be thrown into pie by the asses who sacrifice at the footstool of anarchy and confusion.

15. The Daughters of Columbia—May virtue make a strong impression on their hearts, and render them proof against the maches and snare ever attendant on a deviation from her principles.

16. The memory of him who delivered his country from the rod of despotism, by his wisdom guided her through a sea of troubles, filled the first office of government with unrivalled glory, and who will never cease to be regretted while virtue has a charm for Americans—WASHINGTON.

JULY 11.

The Editor of the New York Gazette has been favored with Judge Brenton's decision, in the case of the ship Charlotte, lately captured by the British frigate Cleopatra, and sent into Halifax, where she was condemned, together with her cargo. The owners of the Charlotte appealed, and there is but little doubt of a restoration of this valuable property, by the Court of admiralty in London.

SHIP CHARLOTTE.

Judge Brenton's decision, in his own words, on the 26th May, 1800.

"This was a ship sailing under American colours, and taken on the 23d of April last, on a voyage from New York to Amsterdam; the cargo on board consisting of sugar, coffee, tobacco, pearl ash, hides, and log-wood."

"The claimants are brothers, De Coster & Co. merchants at New York, styling themselves citizens of the United States of America. The ship and cargo are expressed to be consigned to H. J. De Coster, a Dutch merchant residing in Amsterdam, in Holland, a brother of the claimants."

"Upon this case, I am now to decide upon the evidence arising from the ship's papers, and the preparatory examinations. There have been only two witnesses examined, the master and the cabin boy, a lad of 16 years of age, a Prussian by birth. The master's evidence stands unimpeached, as nothing has been offered to discredit it; and it is favorable for the claimants, for the purpose of establishing an exclusive property in them to the vessel and cargo. But it is liable to the objection, that the master has an interest in part of the cargo—that he is necessarily concerned to defend his own employment and occupation in this commerce—and that he has a natural prepossession in favor of his employers; and the effect of his testimony is to prove that De Coster & Co. at New-York, are sole proprietors of the vessel and cargo, and that no person at Amsterdam have any concern in them further than as a consignment."

"Harold, the cabin boy's evidence, is produced to prove that H. J. De Coster, at Amsterdam, is the owner of the said ship and cargo, collected from an expression he declares the mate made use of to that effect on board the ship; and also from words he overheard drop from the clerks of Brothers, De Coster and Co. but I do not feel myself bound to give implicit faith to this evidence; not because I think the boy has sworn falsely, though opposed by the counter affidavit of the mate, but, because I think it probable, that from his ignorance of the English language, he might have misunderstood any such expressions of the mate and clerks, and might have conceived a consignment or delivery of the cargo to De Coster, at Amsterdam, which might have been mentioned in his hearing, was a proof of her own ship."

"But as I do not consider the cause to rest upon that fact, I am the less inclined to pay any attention to that part of Harold's evidence. There is another ground much more tenable and founded upon the clearest evidence. The declarations and admissions of the claimants themselves, and their agents. It is not contradicted, and therefore, I hold it admitted, that the brothers, De Coster, at New York, are Dutchmen born, and have been only some

"This lad, it seems, as soon as he gave in his evidence, ran off; and it is said he afterwards went on board the Cleopatra, the frigate which captured the Charlotte. It is well known, that this boy could hardly speak a word of English, and that he could not have had any knowledge respecting the property on board this ship. A question therefore arises, whether some improper conduct had not been made use of towards this lad to induce him to give in the above evidence—a base trick, frequently practised by the French; but we hope no other courts of judicature will follow their example."

time resident in New York; they themselves say twelve years; but, though they call themselves citizens of the U. S., they avoid stating their native country, though it is evident their brother, to whom they say they consign their cargo, is a Dutchman, resident in Holland at this time in a state of hostility with Great Britain.

"If the De Coster's at New York, the present claimants deny themselves to be natives of Holland, I might be inclined to give them time to prove what country they are natives of; but, until the contrary appears, I shall hold them to be subjects of Holland or the Batavian republic. Upon this fact alone, I find myself warranted to apply to this case a principle now adopted in England, and prevalent in all the prize courts."

"That if a native of a country at open war with us, withdraws himself from his country and continues to carry on trade with it, he shall not protect himself by a residence in a neutral country."

"That such a traffic stamps the national character on such an individual, independent of that character, which a mere personal residence may give him; and that a vessel, so employed, is in every respect to be considered as a vessel of that country in hostility with us."

"Other principles laid down, are, That if a claimant (resident in a neutral country) from views of interest choose to engage himself in a trade, with a belligerent nation, he must be content to bear all the consequences of such speculation.—The ports of other neutral nations are open to him, and if he confines his vessel exclusively to the enemy's navigation, he is liable to be considered as an enemy, with respect to the concerns of such vessel."

"In support of these principles, I will read the cases in which they have recently been settled—Vigilantia—the Endraughts. See Robinson's Collect. ad Doct. 1799, page 15."

"Such are the authorities by which I hold myself governed in the present case, and which consistently with the determination in the case of the Sufannah, where Cadiniere D'Laveny, a Frenchman, resident in the United States, was owner and claimant, sufficiently warrant me in rejecting the present claim, and decreeing a condemnation of vessel and cargo."

The ship Charlotte and cargo, we find advertised in the Halifax Royal Gazette of the 24th June, which was to have been sold on the 23th of the same month.—The cargo consisted of coffee, tobacco, pot and pearl ashes and logwood, tulle, hides, and sundry other articles—valued at 70,000 dollars.

BOSTON, JULY 5.

"MORE ROBBERS."

Arrived at New-Belford, June 29, ship Franklin, Howland, from Barbadoes, 20 days. Inform, that a French ship of war of 20 brals twelve-pounders, and 165 men, had been captured and sent into Barbadoes, by the British frigate Tamer. The Frenchman had captured previous to being taken, the schooner Little Sally, of Boston, capt. Witmarsh, and ordered for Guadaloupe; and schooner Hancock, of Blue Hill, Atkins, from Savannah, vessel burnt, as the Frenchman had orders not to send in any vessel of less value than 10,000 dollars, but to burn them.

From a late London paper.

Some few weeks since, a young person who had the appearance of a boy, solicited to be brought on board his Majesty's ship the Adaman, at Liverpool, and continued in the ship upwards of seven weeks, performing the duty of his station the same as other boys, when by means of a letter sent to some friends, it was discovered that this pretended boy was a fine girl, about 18 years of age. The loss of a mother and the neglect of a father was the only reason she would ever acknowledge for such a step. During the time she was on board the Adaman, she conducted herself with the greatest propriety, that no one had the least suspicion of her sex; she was sent on shore again, dressed in proper cloaths, with a handsome collection made for her by the officers and ship's company.

tholomew, well known in the annals of Pugilism. Bartholomew is 37 years of age, Belcher only 20, and in size, apparently much inferior to Bartholomew, yet from the long tuition he has received under the scientific Ward, he was considered as the favorite by the amateurs.

The stage was erected at one o'clock and about half an hour afterwards the champions set to with the most determined ferocity. In the second round, Belcher received so severe a knock down blow, that fortune seemed inclined to favor Bartholomew, whose friends immediately let fly a pigeon to London with the intelligence; but, in a few minutes afterwards he was thrown upon his head with such violence, that his eye-sight failed him, and he appeared infinitely distressed. He, however, still persevered, and put in several blows with much effect; but was at length compelled to give in, in consequence of a violent blow in the pit of the stomach which caused him to vomit blood, and left him in the weakest condition imaginable.

The contest lasted twenty minutes, during which period seventeen rounds of as severe fighting as we ever remembered, were disputed with the utmost obstinacy. Immediately after the battle, Bartholomew was taken into custody by the Police Officers, under authority of a Judge's warrant, for having broken the peace before the time of his security had expired. He was escorted to town in a hackney-coach, and hailed on his arrival. Many people were disappointed, conceiving the battle would have been fought at Wormwood Scrubs; but the road to Finchley was, nevertheless, thronged during the whole day.—16.

Alexandria, July 17.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.

Extract of a letter from Messrs. Thomas Dickson and Co. dated London, April 20, 1800, to Robert stooper, Esq. of Manchester.

"The Polly, Lahey's cargo, was yesterday argued in the Admiralty Court, and we have much pleasure in informing you that restitution of the cargo was decreed."

The Polly was loaded with Havana sugar and cocoa, and bound to Bilbao. The sugar was purchased with bills on the Havana, that were bought at Bilbao by the same master the preceding voyage. The cocoa was never landed, but taken from a vessel belonging to the same owner, and immediately put on board of her. The admiralty court, however, being convinced that the whole was bona fide American property, ordered restitution thereof.

Hamilton Rowan sailed for Hamburg on Tuesday last.

It is true, as has been stated, that permission has been granted to Mr. Rowan to return immediately to Ireland. His family will meet him at Hamburg.

The conduct of Mr. Rowan, in America, has been peaceable and exemplary; and he leaves behind him many Americans, who will lament his absence as a friend, and as a gentleman.—We wish we could say as much for many of his countrymen.

CINCINNATI.

Major-General Hamilton, has been chosen President General; Major-General Charles C. Pinckney, Vice-President General; Major Jackson, Secretary General; and General Macpherson, Treasurer General of the Cincinnati of the United States.

Messrs. Macdonald and Guillemard, the British King's Commissioners under the 8th article of the treaty of amity between the United States and Great Britain, sailed for Europe, from New-York, on the 15th instant.

Lieutenant-Col. Burrows, Commandant of the Marine corps has left Philadelphia for the city of Washington, where the head-quarters are to be established.

An arrival at Boston from London, has furnished London dates to May 20; although not so late as those by the Tryal, received at New York, there are many interesting articles. It appears by accounts from Genoa, that Massena had been compelled to offer terms of capitulation; which General Melas would not accept; and that in consequence, he had remounted with the English admiral Keith on the subject. In one attack made by Massena in person at the head of 6,000 grenadiers, he lost 3,000 killed, and 1,500 prisoners—these were picked men—the flower of his army. Genoa, with Massena and the remnant of his troops, we doubt not surrendered long ere this, and thus has terminated his bombastic account of victory in ten successive battles with the Austrians. (G. U. S.)

Richard D. Croucher, who was convicted at the court of oyer and terminer on Tuesday last, of committing a rape, was brought up to the bar on Saturday to receive sentence. He was addressed in a very pathetic manner by the Recorder, who after representing to him the heinousness of his offence, pronounced the sentence of the law, which was, that he be confined in the State Prison, to hard labour, for the term of his natural life.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Received at Boston by the arrival of the Franklin from London.

AUSTRIAN SUCCESSES IN ITALY.

Admiralty Office, May 10.

Letters received this morning from Lord Keith, dated April 21, mention several important advantages gained by the Austrians in the vicinity of the city of Genoa, under the walls of which place the French have been obliged to concentrate their force. In many attacks the fire of the English ships was employed with considerable effect.

Downing Street, May 10.

From the Honorable Mr. WYNDHAM, to Lord GRENVILLE.

Florence, April 29, 1800.

"The latest news arrived this morning from the vicinity of Genoa, states, that Massena having been beat a second time at Voltri, on the 18th inst. was obliged to take refuge, with the remains of his army, within the walls of Genoa; and that all the strong ports and forts without the city were in the hands of the combined powers, under the command of general Melas and admiral lord Keith.

PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE.

By several couriers sent hither by general Melas, we have received the following intelligence respecting the further operations of his army:

From the 12th to the 14th the engagements continued without interruption. General Massena made five different attacks with the flower of his army. A corps of 6000 grenadiers, led by him in person, had 3000 killed and 1500 made prisoners. Massena was also in the hands of an imperial chasseur, whom a French chasseur shot, and thus liberated his general. Massena seeing that his troops were beaten in every quarter, withdrew to Genoa with 18,000 men, the remainder of his army of 29,000 men, and is now entirely blockaded. He attempted to escape by sea, but was forced by the English to return, when he made proposals to general Melas to capitulate, demanding the free departure of himself and his army; his offers were rejected, and he was informed, that, from the situation of affair, a capitulation could not be granted, and that he must surrender at discretion. A courier is now hourly expected, with intelligence of the surrender of Massena and the rest of his army, which is said to suffer greatly from want of provisions.

The obstinacy and inveteracy of the contending armies surpassed that which they had evinced at the battles of Novi and on the Trebbia. The loss of the French, who fought like desperate men, has been very great; but our own has likewise not been inconsiderable. By sea admiral lord Keith blockades Genoa in such a manner, that during the day time his fleet is always drawn up in order of battle, and at night the whole fleet (even the smallest vessels) are illuminated, and stationed in such a manner as to make it entirely impossible even for Massena to escape in person.

PHILADELPHIA, JULY 14.

LIBERTY — EQUALITY. FRENCH REPUBLIC.

PROCLAMATION

Declaring in a state of Blockade the Ports of the Southern Department.

WE Toussaint Louverture, General in Chief of the army of St. Domingo, Considering the obstinacy of the inhabitants of the Southern part of St. Domingo, by persisting in their revolt against the French Republic; Considering that Addresses, Proclamations, and other writings, tending to open to their view the serious dangers to which the pride and dominant spirit of Andre Rigaud is leading them, have made no impression on their hearts, hardened in crimes—that they have been obstinately refused the amnesty held out to them; and finally despairing of bringing them back to their duty by forsaking their errors—Hereby declare all the ports of the Southern Departments of St. Domingo in a state of Blockade, that is, from the posts of Miragoane and Aquin to and comprehending those of Quiberon and Jeremie.

We solicit all American, Spanish, and French ships of war, and all others of our allies to capture every vessel entering or going out of these ports, of whatever nation they may be, promising to the captors the amount of the captures after they shall have been condemned.

We except from this measure only all vessels going out of the southern ports aforesaid to free themselves from the revolt of Rigaud, which circumstance, the captain, owner, or passengers shall prove.

Head Quarters, Cape Francois, 18th Floreal, (8th May) 8th year of the French republic, one and indivisible.

(Signed) TOUSSAINT LOUVERTURE, General in Chief.

By virtue of a decree of the County Court of Fairfax, will be sold on the 20th day of August next, on the premises, for Cash,

In compliance with orders received from his Excellency James Monroe, Esq. Governor of Virginia, I have to direct that the 60 stand of arms loaned to the Alexandria Light Infantry Company in 1793, and the 250 stand of arms loaned to the Militia of Alexandria in 1798, be immediately delivered up, it being indispensably necessary under a late regulation that those arms be retaken into the hands of the Government, that they may be repaired and afterwards distributed as the Law directs. I shall attend at the Court-house on Friday next, for the purpose of receiving them and reporting their condition, and should any of those arms be lost, which it is hoped is not the case, those to whom they were delivered may rely that the most prompt means will be taken to indemnify the public—in my absence the arms may be delivered to Mr. J. Campbell, who is fully authorized to receive them.

Valuable Property FOR SALE.

THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE, That valuable Property known by the name of Clifton Paper-Mill,

With all the improvements, and 50 acres of Land; most of which is in wood. The mill is an over floor, with a wheel of 20 feet 9 inches, on a constant stream as any in this part of the country. Sue is a two vat mill, and every way calculated for that purpose, with two iron presses of the best construction, made by Reynolds and Sharples, Brandywine Mills, a letting pond of fine water at the mill door, with an excellent pump for conveying the water to the engines, a size kettle, moulder, flats, and every other apparatus for carrying on the Paper-Making business.

The mill-house is 50 by 28 feet, two stories high, with a loft—There are also two vau-houses, a drying house, and rag house, convenient to the mill, with a barn shed on each side, sufficient to hold ten horses; a convenient dwelling house (not quite finished) with a kitchen, meat-house, and corn-house; the whole of which has been built within these 4 years past. There is a thriving young orchard of peach and other fruit trees, just beginning to bear.

This property lies within 2 1/2 miles of Dumfries, on tide-water, and within about 34 miles of Alexandria, City of Washington, and G. Town, at which places the manufacturer finds a ready market, and where a large proportion of materials are collected. A water conveyance offers almost at any time, there being several craft which constantly trade to and from the above places. Falmouth and Fredericksburg are within 25 miles; these, with the places above, are sufficient to vend all the manufacture that can be made. The situation of this property must render it a desirable acquisition to any person inclined to engage in this line of business; and particularly so, as the Federal Government is just upon removing to the City of Washington, which must, of course, make the demand still greater. It is deemed unnecessary to say any thing more respecting the premises, as it is presumed any person inclined to purchase, would wish to see them. Nothing would induce me to part with this valuable property, but for the pressing demands against those concerned, who are anxious to discharge them; therefore a great bargain may be expected. Any further information required may be known on application to JOHN SOWDEN.

For Sale,

A Very valuable TRACT OF LAND, in the lower end of King William County, in the State of Virginia, finely timbered with oak, cypress, &c. beautifully situated at the confluence of the rivers Pamunkey and Mattaponi, and in its whole extent bounded by those two rivers.

This Land is generally known by the name of the West Point Tract, from its vicinity to a little village of that name. It contains about 2,200 acres of high land, and 700 of fine valuable marsh or meadow.

To detail the many advantages attached to this land, cannot well be done in a small compass; suffice it to say, without the aid of exaggeration, that few tracts exceed it in fertility of soil, in pleasantness, healthiness of situation, and the abundant other gifts which nature has lavished upon it. Fish of various kinds, oysters, wild fowl, and the best crabs in the State, are plentifully to be had in the adjoining rivers and creeks.

It is presumable that no person will purchase such a tract of land without having sufficient proof of its value; yet there is one circumstance so singularly advantageous, that it ought not to be omitted, which is, that there is no part of it more than half a mile from navigation, and that for vessels of any burthen. The terms of sale will be made known by application to the subscribers, who will warrant the title.

June 2.

Ten Dollars Reward,

FOR apprehending negro CHARLES, about 44 years of age, who went off some time in November last. He has in one of his cheeks a hole which was occasioned by the tooth ache; one of his thumbs has been nearly cut off by an axe, at the first joint, which is now crooked; he has also had a whitlow on one of his hands, which had not got well when he left me, and I think it probable that the hand is withered, and he has a rupture in his bowels.

I have been lately informed, that he has turned Baptist, and is a preacher in Alexandria. He last year hired himself from me, and I gave him permission to pass and repass for 12 months; which I suppose he now shews for his pass, or perhaps he may pass for a freeman. The above reward will be given to any person (together with all reasonable charges) who will deliver him to me, or secure him in any goal so that I get him again.

Also, a Tract of Land, in Stafford County, containing 137 acres; on which are an excellent orchard, and several houses, a little out of repair. There is a lease on this land for a few years, the tenant paying me a rent of 2000 wt. of Tobacco.

Likewise, a Lease for 165 Acres of Land, in the Manor of Leeds, in Loudoun County, adjoining the lease of Samuel Bartlett; on which there is an abundance of valuable timber, none of it being ever cut down.

Lands for Sale, or exchange for other Property.

SEVEN hundred and eighty-eight acres in the county of Hampshire, on the waters of Great Cape Capon, about 20 miles from the Warm Springs, and 60 from Winchester. This land is full of wood, oak and Pine Timber. Two excellent farms may be made, with 30 to 50 acres of bottom, and rich high lands to each; and in the heart of the timber there is a fine seat for a saw-mill. Capt. Daniel Rice will show the lands.

Three thousand eight hundred and forty-five acres in the county of Ohio, on the waters of Grave and Fish creeks, near the river Ohio, and about 80 miles below Pittsburg. Some of these lands are very good, with considerable quantities of rich bottom, and plenty of excellent timber. Robert Woods, Esq. the Surveyor of that county, will show these lands.

One hundred seventy six and three-fourths acres, within three miles of the Warm Springs, upon Great Cape Capon, near its mouth, and within 1/2 of a mile of the River Potomac. This land has about 70 to 80 acres of rich bottom, mostly in cultivation, with 274 fine sugar trees on it; from which, I am informed, there may be made 6000 lb. of good sugar annually. There is also a seat for grist and saw mills on it, equal to any in that neighbourhood, and upon a never failing stream of water. The upland is rich, with plenty of timber, and part under cultivation. This farm is well improved with a good orchard, houses and fencing, and rented last year for produce equal to sixty pounds per acre. Mr. Joseph Butler, at the Warm Springs, will show it. I will sell all, or any of the above lands for cash, or upon credit, or take in exchange for them lands in Fairfax County, or Lots of land in the town of Alexandria, or the city of Washington.
